Broders raise money for Autism during 5K Beach Challenge

Seth Broder, Esq. and his wife Meredith ran along the Atlantic Ocean coast to participate in the 5K Beach Challenge for Autism. Held August 18 in Ocean City, N.J., the event collected money for Autism Speaks.

"After our costs, we raised over $7,000," said Tara Prindible, one of the event's organizers. The Broders were among more than 200 participants who made their way through beach sand to cover 5 kilometers -- slightly more than 3 miles.

Autism Speaks is the largest nonprofit organization dedicated to increasing awareness of autism and raising money to fund autism research. Autism Speaks is dedicated to increasing awareness of autism spectrum disorders, to funding research into the causes, prevention, treatments and cure for autism, and to advocating for the needs of affected families. Autism Speaks has merged with both the National Alliance for Autism Research (NAAR) and Cure Autism Now (CAN), bringing together the nation's three leading autism advocacy organizations.
